

HERB CODINGTON

Faith and Fostering: The Call of Hospitality

Born and raised in Korea of medical missionary parents, Herb Codington is married to the former Suzan Taylor, born and raised in Brazil of church-planting missionary parents. Herb and Suzan have nine precious grandchildren and five children serving the Lord in California, North and South Carolina, and Albania. Herb has been active in missionary work with pastors, teachers, and schools in Haiti for the past twenty years and pastors a three-church yoked field in Laurens County that has planted two New Worshiping Communities in the county. For countless years, he has also been engaged in Scout leadership training and in his hobby of raising adventuresome goats.
