

Pray for the Richardson Family

With your support, we can make a difference for children and families

Ms. Richardson

was recently divorced and struggling to raise and support her son, Connor, in their new normal. Connor had become unreasonable and hard to manage; Ms. Richardson didn't know how to help him. But thanks to you, she had options. She reached out to Thornwell's Building Families, and was met with effective, hands-on support.

Today, she has methods and tools that she can rely on when issues arise, and she's learned how to use playful engagement to diffuse escalating situations.

Ms. Richardson said, "I've learned that I'm stronger than I think...and I'm not helpless. Having Courtney (Family Specialist) by my side has given me so much more confidence!"

Pray with us the Richardsons and their continued growth as a family!
